

Doctor = Publisher

World-Wide Impact

If you publish a free medical textbook, anticipate the following returns:

1. You will transmit your experience to your colleagues around the world.
2. You will have at least 10 times as many readers as with a printed book. 50,000 downloads per year is one download every 10 minutes, throughout every single day and night of the year.

PDF downloads of free medical textbooks (figures to the nearest 500)

Textbook	Launch	First month	Total
HIV Medicine 2005 762 pages	October 2005	11,500	45,000 1 year
Influenza Report 225 pages	April 2006	11,000	34,500 1 year
HIV Medicine 2006 825 pages	October 2006	14,000	39,000 6 months
Tuberculosis 2007 700 pages	June 2007	n.a.	n.a.

3. You will receive global attention, as I promise to promote your textbook on my FreeBooks4Doctors.com website (> 2,000 visitors per day) and attract thousands of visitors to it.
4. If you participate in the Amedeo Challenge initiative, I will also promote your textbook at my websites:
  - Amedeo (> 130,000 weekly newsletters)
  - Amedeo Challenge
  - Free Medical Journals (> 7,000 visitors per day)
  - Free Medical Information (240,000 downloads from May 2005 through May 2007)
5. By offering a free, high-quality textbook, which is updated on a regular basis, you will establish a brand that physicians around the world will easily recognise.
6. Finally, you will attract sponsors to your textbook. Offer them
  - presence on your webpage and
  - the chance to buy several hundreds or – less commonly – several thousands of copies of your textbook.
